

PRESENTABLE.

AN INTRODUCTION TO EFFECTIVE
PRESENTATION DESIGN

Grades 5 - 12

syllabus + bio

I believe that creativity is a muscle that you should exercise early and often. In this introductory course, I teach that presentations are stories that should be packaged in a way that is beautiful and balanced.

THOUGHTFUL DESIGN

Learning and appreciating basic design principles can change your perspective on the way you give and receive information.

This is a process that begins with empathy for your audience. I'm happy to share with you what I've learned.

ABOUT THE INSTRUCTOR

Caitlin Klein has cultivated an invaluable skill set: the ability to make effective design choices that go into successful presentations, offsites, programs, proposals, dashboards, personal communications, and any other visual used in a business setting that you could think of.

Caitlin does more than produce presentations, however. Her work has been recognized as a key ingredient and accelerator of positive organizational image and change, by focusing on the audience first, and promoting messages that support core values.

Caitlin has bachelor's degrees in Mandarin Chinese language and Finance from Arizona State University.
